Key Features
OF THE FLEXIBLE OPTIONS BOND
These Key Features give you the main points about our Flexible Options Bond. They include an illustration showing what you might get in the future. Please read the Key Features and illustration carefully and keep them with your other Flexible Options Bond documents.

Its aims

- To provide either;
  - capital growth over the medium to long-term. You should aim to keep your Bond for at least five years; or
  - to give an income (i.e. you can withdraw money out of your Bond on a regular basis) if you choose. We call this taking regular withdrawals.
- To allow you to choose how your money is invested.

Your commitment

- You make a single payment of at least £5,000, or at least £1,000 if you are adding to an existing Bond.
- There's no set investment period.
Risk factors

• What you get back depends on investment performance and isn’t guaranteed.

• The value of your Bond can go down as well as up. You may not get back as much as you invested.

• If you cash in the Bond, you may get back less than illustrated. This could happen if, for example:
  • investment performance is lower than illustrated;
  • your regular withdrawals have been more than illustrated;
  • our charges are higher than those illustrated;
  • you cash in all or part of your Bond within five years of making a payment. In that case we’ll reduce the cash-in value by applying a charge. Please see the illustration for details. The charge doesn’t apply to regular withdrawals.

• If you cash in your Bond in the early years, you’re unlikely to get back as much as you invested.

• The more you withdraw from your Bond, the smaller the remaining value of your Bond.

• Your Bond may invest in a range of investment funds, which carry different levels of risk.
  • If you invest in a unit-linked investment fund, the value of your Bond can fall as well as rise.
    This type of investment does not offer any guarantees. Please contact us for more details.
  • If you invest in the With-Profits Growth fund and/or the With-Profits Income fund, the value of your Bond can fall as well as rise. For example, we can apply Market Value Reductions. You can find more details in the relevant With-Profits guide(s) for your Bond. Please contact us for more details.

• Tax rules can change.

• If you decide in the first 30 days that you don’t want your Bond, you may not get all your money back if its value has fallen.
Questions & Answers

What is the Scottish Widows Flexible Options Bond?
- It's a way of investing a cash sum over the medium to long-term. You should aim to keep your Bond for at least five years.
- It's a Bond that's made up of a number of individual policies.
- It can be issued to one person, or two people jointly.

How flexible is it?
- Once you have set up your Bond, you can make further payments into it of at least £1,000 at any time.
- The total amount you can invest in your Bond is currently £1m.
- Your Bond can be invested in up to ten funds at any one time.
- You can take regular withdrawals as detailed in ‘Can I take money out?’
- You can cash in part or all of your Bond at any time, although there may be a delay for any part of your Bond invested in certain funds.
- The Bond’s flexibility may change for further payments.

What might I get back?
- If you cash in all or part of your Bond you will get back the value of your units, less any deductions. See illustration for details of the charge which can apply when you cash in all or part of the Bond. The value of the Bond isn’t guaranteed.
- What you get back will depend for example on:
  - how much you’ve paid in;
  - how long each payment has been invested;
  - how well our investments have performed;
  - how much you’ve taken as regular withdrawals;
  - how much you’ve already cashed in;
  - how much we’ve charged.
- What we pay out on death is covered later under ‘What happens to the Flexible Options Bond if I die?’
- The enclosed illustration gives you an idea of what you might get back.

Can I take money out?
- Yes, but this will lower the value of your Bond.
- You can take money out by taking regular withdrawals. There are two types of regular withdrawals – Fixed Withdrawals and Natural Income Withdrawals. You can only have one type of regular withdrawal in force at any one time.
  - If you choose Fixed Withdrawals:
    - They can be up to 5% a year of the amount you’ve invested. The limit is lower if you’ve already cashed in part of your Bond;
    - They can be taken from all of the funds your Bond is invested in, or just from some of them;
    - The terms available at the start of your Bond for Fixed Withdrawals from either of the with-profits funds may not be available if you don’t start taking the withdrawals until later. For details see the relevant With-Profits guide(s);
    - If your Bond is invested in several funds including either (or both) of the with-profits funds, what you can take as Fixed Withdrawals from that with-profits fund is limited. For more information please see the relevant With-Profits guide(s).
• If you choose Natural Income Withdrawals:
  • They come only from the With-Profits Income Fund. They are only available if your Bond is invested in that fund. You can’t take regular withdrawals from any other fund your Bond is invested in while you are taking them;
  • The level of Natural Income Withdrawals depends on the regular bonus rates we decide for the With-Profits Income Fund. It will, therefore, rise or fall while you are taking the withdrawals. Future bonus rates are not guaranteed. For more information please see the relevant With-Profits guide.
• For both types of regular withdrawal the lowest withdrawal from your Bond is £30. Regular withdrawals can be taken monthly, quarterly, half-yearly or yearly. A minimum level of investment in your Bond is required if you wish to take monthly withdrawals. You must leave at least £100 in each of the Bond’s policies. We can change these limits.
• You can cash in part of your Bond. You can do this by cashing in:
  • parts of policies, complete policies or a combination of both; or
  • your Bond’s investments in particular funds.

Where is my payment invested?
• We offer a wide range of investment funds for you to choose from. Some are managed by us and some are managed by other fund managers. Your Bond can be invested in up to ten funds at any one time. For further details please see the ‘Flexible Options Bond Fund Choice’ booklet.
• We use your payments to buy units in the funds you choose.
• You can switch in and out of the funds to change the mix of investments, though there may be conditions and a charge for doing this. The first twelve fund switches in each Bond year are currently free. We can add to or reduce the range of funds available.
• If you choose our unit-linked funds:
  • each of our funds is made up of ‘units’, which are like shares of the fund;
  • the price of one unit in each fund depends on the value of the investments and the number of units in it;
  • we work out the value of your Bond (before any charges) based on the total number of units you have in each fund;
  • if the unit prices rise or fall, so will the value of your Bond.
• If you choose our With-Profits Growth and/or our With-Profits Income fund:
  • they’re made up of units;
  • unlike our other funds, the value of units in these funds isn’t directly related to the value of the fund itself. The value of units in these funds depends on bonuses, market value reductions and charges that we decide;
  • the value of your Bond can fall as well as rise;
  • you can find more details in the relevant With-Profits guide(s) for your Bond.

What happens to the Flexible Options Bond if I die?
• A cash sum will be paid on your death, or on the second death if the Bond is based on two lives. The amount of cash sum will be 101% of the value of your Bond at the date of death. Unit-linked funds will be valued at the selling price of the units. See the relevant With-Profits guide(s) for your Bond for details of how we value With-Profits units on death.
• For income tax purposes, the Bond will be treated as though it had been cashed in immediately before death. Please see ‘What about tax?’
• All or part of the value of your Bond is included in your estate. Inheritance tax may have to be paid on the Bond.
• If the Bond is written under trust, the cash sum will be paid to the Trustees.
• Please contact your financial adviser if you want to find out more about inheritance tax or writing your Bond under trust.
What are the charges?

- We charge for managing and investing your Bond. We take our charges partly from your payment, and partly from the value of your Bond.

- We have the power to change, at any time, most of the charges we make. We may use this power if our costs turn out to be unexpectedly high, compared to our charges. Charges could increase if, for example:
  - tax rules change;
  - our staff or overhead costs are more than we anticipate; or
  - our income from charges is less than we anticipate.

- If you’ve invested in fund(s) managed by other fund managers they have the power to change any charges they make.

- Your illustration shows the charges and how they affect the value of your Bond.

What about tax?

- Scottish Widows pays corporation tax on the funds’ investment income and actual gains when the funds’ investments are sold. You can’t reclaim the tax we pay.

- All amounts you receive from the Bond are free from income tax at the lower and basic rates.

- You don’t have to pay any capital gains tax.

- If you are, or are close to being, a higher rate taxpayer you may have to pay additional income tax. The difference between basic and higher rate tax may have to be paid when you cash in parts of policies, complete policies or you die.

- All or part of your Bond is included in your estate. Inheritance tax may have to be paid if you die.

- You can take out a limited amount from your Bond without having to pay any tax at the time. The limit is currently 5% a year of your payments into the Bond, until you reach a total of 100%. When you cash in a policy, any withdrawals you’ve taken from it previously will be included in the tax calculation. If you go over the limit, or cash in one or more of your policies, we’ll send you a statement (Chargeable Event Certificate). This will give you enough information to complete your self-assessment form.

- If you’re over 65, your entitlement to age allowance could also be affected.

- Further details are outlined in the accompanying product information.

- Tax rules can change.

Can I change my mind?

You can change your mind within 30 days of receiving your cancellation notice. If you decide that you don’t want the Bond, we’ll give you your money back less any fall in the investment value. You may not get back what you paid in.

How will I know how my Bond is doing?

- We’ll send you a statement each year.

- You can check the unit prices of our unit-linked funds from our website as detailed opposite, or get an up-to-date valuation of your Bond by contacting us using the details shown. Please see ‘How to contact us’.

Terms and conditions

• These Key Features give a summary of the Scottish Widows Flexible Options Bond. They don’t include all the definitions, exclusions, terms and conditions. Further details of the benefits, charges and conditions of the plan are given in the product booklet and Policy Provisions, which are available on request from Scottish Widows.

• We have the right to change some of the terms and conditions at any time. We’ll write and explain if this affects your Bond.

Law

• For legal purposes the law of England & Wales, Scotland or Northern Ireland will apply, according to where you reside when you take out your Bond.

• This information represents Scottish Widows’ interpretation of the law and Inland Revenue practice as at date of publication. The contract terms, and the amount and taxation of benefits described, assume that there’s no change in tax or other laws affecting Scottish Widows or its investments.

Money Laundering Regulations 1993

• Under these regulations, there’s a requirement to prove the identity of people who wish to take out a life, pension or investment product. You may therefore be asked to supply documents as evidence of your identity and your address.

Compensation

• Your financial adviser or consultant has a duty to recommend only products that are suitable for you. You have a legal right to compensation if at any time it’s shown that their recommendation was unsuitable in the circumstances when it was made.

• Your plan is also covered by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS). This means that if Scottish Widows were to become insolvent, or unable to meet the claims against it, you would be eligible for compensation under the Scheme. The actual compensation basis will be determined by the Scheme rules. If you require more information you can contact the FSCS helpline on 020 7892 7300 or visit their website at www.fscs.org.uk

• Further information on compensation is available on request from the Financial Services Authority and the Financial Services Compensation Scheme.

Important Notes
Taking withdrawals will reduce the value of your bond and they could be greater than any growth achieved. This bond should not be taken out as a short-term investment. If you cash in your bond in the early years, you’re unlikely to get back as much as you invested.
